

Data protection principles of our website starting 1.1.2020

The data protection principles concerning the website of Rinotop Oy have been released and they shall be applied beginning 1.1.2020. While using our website, you accept these principles.

Our website may contain links to other websites. Rinotop Oy is not responsible of data protection or content of those websites.

The website of Rinotop Oy has been created to inform about services and activities of the company. However, we collect the data regarding how the website has been used. This information may be connected to your personal data in possession of Rinotop Oy.

Cookies

We might use cookies on our website. The most web browsers can be set to forbid cookies and to make announcement when cookies are about to being transferred to your computer.

The protection of privacy and personal data

Rinotop Oy is committed to protect your privacy and personal data. Rinotop Oy follows high level of protection and handles your personal data according to laws regarding personal data and data protection.

Rinotop Oy stores personal data only as much as necessary or as required by the laws to offer you a better service. Rinotop Oy can use the information that you have given to offer you services or to answer your requests. When you give information to Rinotop Oy via this website you accept the collection and usage of the personal information as defined in data protection principles. Rinotop Oy will not give the information to third parties and will not transfer the information outside of Rinotop Oy, its group companies or cooperation partners.

Rinotop Oy develops the website on continuous basis and can change these data protection principles when necessary by updating the principles.