THE OLYMPIC CHOICE FOR 12 GAMES RUNNING

The history of Mondo stretches back to the year 1948, when the Stroppiana brothers established a small rubber playballs manufacturing business in Alba, Italy.

In the early 1970s, MONDO introduced Sportflex[™], the first rubber-based, heavy metal-free, premanufactured all-weather synthetic track surface.

On 21 July 1972 Franco Ossola, Luigi Benedetti, Pasqualino Abeti and Pietro Mennea set the first World Record on a Mondo track, running the 4 x 200m relays in 1'21"5 on the freshly installed Mondo track in Barletta, Italy.

The Organizing Committee of Montréal 1976 Summer Olympics selected Mondo for one of its tracks, followed by the Organizing Committees of Moscow 1980, Los Angeles 1984 and Seoul 1988 Summer Olympics. In 1992 (Barcelona) MONDO became Olympic Sole Supplier.

So far, the Organizing Committees of 12 consecutive editions of the Olympic Games, including Tokyo 2020, selected MONDO as their track and athletic equipment supplier.

Respect for athletes' health and the environment, ease of installation and first rate technical support are only some of the reasons why Olympic Commettes choose MONDO as Official Supplier since 44 years.
